An audio book donation program initiated by Taped Editions' Inc. Board of Directors in July 2006 has enhanced audio book collections in more than 75 libraries in eight states. To date, Taped Editions has donated more than $100,000 in audio books to worthy libraries across the country.

Responding to a desperate call for audio books from a southern Indiana library, Taped Editions', Inc. Board of Directors initiated a program to donate used audios to libraries in depressed, devastated, or high-poverty areas. At their July 2006 meeting, directors unanimously voted to donate $25,000 in abridged audio book cassettes to Indiana libraries and $15,000 in abridged audio book cassettes to those libraries in Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana plagued by storm damage or crippled by high demand due to library closings. Donations were so well received that the program expanded to include rural libraries in Kentucky, Tennessee, Texas, and West Virginia.

An average donation box contains 35-40 audio books, and receiving libraries are asked to pay the shipping charges, if they are able to do so. Taped Editions will continue to offer donation boxes to interested libraries until their cassette inventory is exhausted. Libraries interested in participating in the program should contact Taped Editions at 800-850-1701, or at sales@tapeditions.com.
